SUMMARY

MELISA FRANZEN

knows great schools are the building blocks that make Minnesota thrive.

A great education starts early

Melisa Franzen believes a great education leads to a brighter future—and that early childhood education is where it all begins. Melisa will make sure early childhood education scholarships are available to those who need them most, so every child can start off right.

Investing in our schools

Melisa will fight for Minnesota families by making sure public education is funded appropriately, from kindergarten through college—giving everyone access to great schools, regardless of where you live.

Making college affordable again

Every student in Minnesota should be able to attend our top-notch colleges and universities without taking on crushing debt. Melisa supports student loan refinancing relief for students saddled by debt. She will continue to fight so that Minnesota kids can get the education they need to prosper and thrive.
